Abstract: This paper presents the love story of ‘Your Name’ and his partner, highlighting how their journey from meeting each other on campus to entering marriage has shaped them into a perfect couple. From the moment they met, ‘Your Name’ and his partner walked hand in hand, nurturing their relationship, and growing both individually and together. They not only achieved academic success but also excelled in their personal and professional lives.

‘Your Name’，not a top student with a deep passion for his dreams, has balanced his academic pursuits with a love for life. His partner, a graceful, intellectual woman, has proven to be an ideal companion both for her family and friends. Their chemistry and interaction have left an indelible impression on everyone who knows them.

From their initial encounter, to the day they decided to commit to each other, all the way to the proposal and the planning of their wedding, their love has only grown stronger. Their wedding is not only a celebration of their love but also an affirmation of their determination to be together for a lifetime.
